Ohio – 10 years, O.R.C. § 2305.10(C)(1) Should use 12 years, instead of 10 years, to avoid this exception in the SOR statute. “However, if the cause of action accrues in years 9 or 10, the action may be commenced within 2 years after the action accrues.”
0:17-cv-05531-JNE-DTS	Morris	Larry	Kansas	7/27/2007	12/21/2017	Kennedy Hodges	Agree with dates 3M listed.	Kansas – 10 years, K.S.A. 60-513, Statute of repose does not apply to latent harms, which would include infections from the use of a Bair Hugger device.
0:18-cv-00049-JNE-DTS	Rommer	Robert	Georgia	11/12/2007	1/5/2018	Kennedy Hodges	Agree with dates 3M listed.	Georgia – 10 years, O.C.G.A. § 51-1-11(b)(2), Should not be included, as this SOR expressly does not affect failure to warn claims. Given all Georgia cases have asserted failure to warn, using the SOR to dispose of some claims would never dispose of an entire case in the MDL, Plaintiffs respectfully submit it is inappropriate to use an SOR in Georgia for this exercise.
